My name is Jim Stone. Yesterday afternoon I left the house at about 3 o'clock and didn't get home until 5.30. I went to see a friend of mine. My friend Janet Smith is in hospital, and I went to visit her. We talked all the afternoon. We talked about a lot of different subjects. We talked about the weather and we talked about our old friends.

In the evening, I sometimes listen to the radio or watch television. I never go to the cinema. Occasionally I go to a party at somebody's house. Every night I go to bed early and go to sleep immediately. I usually sleep soundly all night. Last year I used to get to work at eight o'clock every day. I used to set the alarm clock for six in the morning.

At 6.00, I used to get up immediately and get dressed quickly. I used to have breakfast at 6.30 every morning. For breakfast, I used to have porridge, toast and coffee. Then I used to leave the house at about a quarter to eight. I used to get to the office at eight o'clock and start working immediately. Every day I used to work until seven or eight o'clock in the evening.

Sometimes I didn't get home until 8.30 at night. I used to have dinner quite late. There wasn't time to listen to the radio or watch television last year.

After dinner I read the newspapers for a while and made some telephone calls. I listened the radio for two hours and went to bed at midnight. I didn't go to sleep immediately. I slept for six hours last night. I didn't sleep very well.

TRACCIA 6

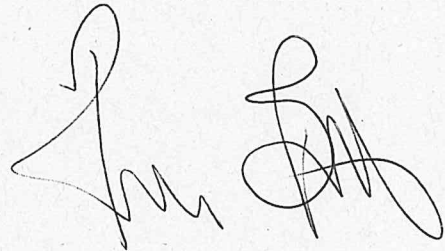

I said I had four or five friends in Paris. I answered almost all her questions. Finally, I asked her if she wanted to listen to the radio for a little while, and she said she did. I said I had to go. She asked me when I was coming back to visit her, and I said I didn't know. She said good-bye and I left the hospital at about 5 o'clock.

My name is Jack Martin. I work in an office near here. I work from about nine o'clock in the morning until six o'clock each day. Actually I only work five days a week. I don't go to work on Saturdays or Sundays.

Usually, I have breakfast and dinner at home. I have lunch in a restaurant near my office.

I asked her if she knew anybody in London, and she said she did. Then I asked her about her firends in london. I asked a lot of questions. She aswered all my questions. Then she asked me if I spoke French, and I said I did speak a little French. She wanted to know if I spoke French with an English accent, and I said I did. Then she asked me if I knew anybody in Paris.
